

PETER

Peter possesses a decade of experience in the anti-trafficking sector, during which he has held diverse roles. Notably, he served as the Chief Operating Officer in the US and as the Country Director in the Dominican Republic for an international anti-trafficking organization. His expertise encompasses nonprofit management, including fundraising and project management, as well as the provision of extensive victim services, undercover investigation, field operations, and inter-governmental collaboration and cooperation.